Library Computer Center Agreement

All of the Shelby County Public Libraries have public access computers with internet, Microsoft Office products, databases and other online resources for you to come in and use. These resources are being made available for your personal learning and enjoyment. Every networked computer connected to the internet within the libraries has filtered online access per state law. Patrons may not use any personal storage or other electronic device in any library networked computer and downloading is prohibited due to security issues. Patrons are advised that your privacy online isn't guaranteed and that you take a calculated risk using a public access computer or logging on to a public network.

Shelby County Public Libraries are not responsible for the content or accuracy of the information accessible by Computer Center or the statements, views, and opinions expressed there. The Shelby County Libraries assume no responsibility for the use of the Internet by children, teens, or adults. Children under the age of 18 must have written permission of their parent or guardians to use the Computer Center. Children under the age of 8 must be accompanied by a responsible adult.

Public Libraries of Shelby County Internet Hold Harmless Statement

The Public Libraries of Shelby County cannot control the resources on the Internet. The Internet changes daily and it is impossible for the library to prevent access to resources that might be objectionable to some people. The Public Libraries of Shelby County assume no responsibility for the actions of, debts incurred by, or information accessed by patrons who have voluntarily chosen to access or, have given approval to their minor children to access the Internet.
